Thought for the Month

“Beware of no man more than of yourself, we carry our worst enemy within us.”

C H Spurgeon (1834 to.1892) British clergyman. It is reported that there was no greater preacher than Spurgeon for the past 200 years. Always his message was focused on the “crucified Christ”. All over the world he was known as the prince of preachers.

Some Biblical illustrations.

Romans chapter 7.gives us the confessions of a man before believing Christ and then his victory after accepting Christ as Lord and Saviour. Observe, there is the power of sin within the man and when the Holy Spirit abides in him, he can lead a victorious life

Remember the great fall of David and his genuine confession is Psalm 51. Read his cry “take not the Holy Spirit from me, give me back the joy of salvation”. Whether the sin is small or great this is the experience of every Christian. So realise that the enemy is within us.
